Guide for Authors

Iranian journal of Veterinary Science and Technology (IJVST) is a peer-reviewed and multi-disciplinary journal that supports important research advances in veterinary medicine and subject areas relevant to veterinary medicine including anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, bacteriology, biochemistry, biotechnology, food hygiene, public health, immunology, molecular biology, parasitology, pathology, virology, etc. Contributions related to clinical sciences including large and small animal medicine, poultry disease, diseases of equine species and aquaculture are welcomed. Articles can comprise research in basic sciences, as well as applied veterinary findings and experimental studies with impacts on diagnosis, treatment and prevention of animal diseases.

General guidelines

1. Submitted manuscripts should not be previously published elsewhere and should not be under consideration by any other journal.
2. The submitted manuscript should be accompanied by a written statement signed by the corresponding author on behalf of all the authors that its publication has been approved by all coauthors, stating that the whole manuscript or a part of it has not and will not be published in or submitted to elsewhere.
3. The corresponding author should provide all co-authors with information regarding the manuscript, and obtain their approval before submitting any revisions.
4. Full-length articles, Short Communications, Case reports, Reviews and Commentaries that address scope of the journal will be considered for publication.
5. Ethics: Authors must state that the protocol for the research project has been approved by the Ethics Committee of the institution within which the work was undertaken. Authors are responsible for animal welfare and all statements made in their work.

Manuscript types

Original Articles should contain Title Page, Abstract, Keywords, List of Abbreviations, Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results, Discussion, Acknowledgement, Author Contributions, Conflict of Interest Statements, References, and Figure Legends. Tables and figures should be appended as individual files.

Review Articles should provide an update on recent advances in a particular field. Authors wishing to submit review articles should contact the Editor with an outline of the proposed paper prior to submission.

Case Reports should include Title Page (including Acknowledgements, Author Contributions, and Conflict of Interest Statements), Abstract, Keywords, List of Abbreviations, Introduction, Case Presentation, Results and Discussion, and References. Case reports should not exceed 2000 words (excluding the references) and should include no more than two tables or figures.

Short Communications should not exceed 2000 words (excluding the references) and include no more than two tables or figures. They should include Title Page (including Acknowledgements, Author Contributions, and Conflict of Interest Statements), Abstract, Keywords, List of Abbreviations, the text summarizing results with no other divisions, and References.
Discussion

Discussion should include the answer to the question proposed in the introduction and emphasize the new and important aspects of the study and the conclusions that follow from them. It could include the implication, application, or speculation of the findings and their limitations, relate the observations to other relevant studies, and links the conclusions with the goals of the study. Recommendations, when appropriate, may be included.

Materials and Methods

Materials and Methods should be described in sufficient details to allow other workers to reproduce the results. Specify any statistical computer programs used. The methods of data collection and use of statistical analysis will be checked by the referees and if necessary, a statistician. Drugs and therapeutic agents, reagents, softwares and equipments should be given in the format: name (trade name, manufacturer name, city, country), e.g. Statview 5 (SAS Institute, Inc., Cary, NC, USA).

Acknowledgements

Personal acknowledgement, sources of financial support, contributions and helps of other researchers and everything that does not justify authorship should be mentioned in this section, if required.

Author contributions statement

Authors are required to include a statement to specify the contributions of each author. The statement describes the tasks of individual authors referred to by their initials. Listed below is an example of author contributions statement.

Conceived and designed the experiments: HD, SS. Performed the experiments: SS. Analyzed the data: HD, SS, MMM, ARB. Research space and equipment: HD, MMM, ARB. Contributed reagents/materials/analysis tools: HD. wrote the paper: SS, HD.

Conflict of interest statement

All authors must disclose any financial and personal relationships with other people or organizations that could inappropriately influence (bias) their work. Examples of potential conflicts of interest include employment, consultancies, stock ownership, honoraria, paid expert testimony,

References

Must be up-to-dated and limited to those that are necessary. Lists of references should be given in numerical order in the text, and in the reference list. Please use Vancouver style. To download the Vancouver Style follow the link in IJVST website which could be used in the Endnote software. Example piece of text and reference list:

An unhealthy diet, obesity and physical inactivity play a role in the onset of type 2 diabetes, but it has been shown that increased physical activity substantially reduces the risk [1], and participation in regular physical activity is one of the major recommendation of the evidence based guidelines for the primary prevention of diseases [2]. According to the 2004-05 National Health Survey, more than half a million Australians (3.5% of the population) have diabetes mellitus which had been medically diagnosed and most of these people have the Type 2 condition [3]. Gestational diabetes is also on the increase, rising steadily between 2000-01 and 2005-06 [4]. Approximately two thirds of those with diabetes have been prescribed medication [3], but it is of concern that a recent review of the literature found that many people do not take their medication as prescribed [5]. Many patients also self monitor the disease by measuring their blood glucose levels with a glucose meter but Song and Lipman [6] have concerns about how well this is managed.

In-text citations

The reference is written with an arabic number put in parentheses. You need to give a reference even when the author's name is stated in the sentence. If you refer to a source more than once, you should use the same number you used the first time you referred to that particular source. If you refer to several sources in one sentence, you may give them this way: [2-4] that is, 2 through 4, and [2-4,8] that is, 2 through 4 and 8.

The list of references should only include works that are cited in the text and that have been published or accepted for publication. Reference list should be enumerated. The reference library as Endnote file should be sent to IJVST office when is required at the time of typesetting.

The information on how to write in-text references and reference lists in the Vancouver style is retrieved from the NLM's style guide Citing medicine [1] and References/Bibliography Vancouver Style [2,3].

Figures

Figures must be submitted in individual files (format: TIFF, Dimensions: Width: 789 – 2250 pixels at 300 dpi Height maximum: 2625 pixels at 300 dpi, Resolution: 300 – 600 dpi, file size: less than 10 MB, Text within figures: Arial or Symbol font only in 8-12 point). The text and other labels should be placed in the figure as un-compressed layers. Each figure should have a title which is followed by explanation of results shown in the figure. Figures should be numbered in order of citation in the text with Arabic numerals.

The bar diagrams should be provided with shading of black, white, gray, cross-hatching, vertical stripes, and horizontal stripes. Please do not use different shades of gray. The axes of diagrams should have titles and units. Also, the source file of the image (Excel etc.) should be provided for typesetting.

Illustrations should be numbered as cited in the sequential order in the text, with a legend at the end of the manuscript. Color photographs are accepted at no extra charge. The editors and publisher reserve the right to reject illustrations or figures based upon poor quality of submitted materials. If a published figure is used, the publisher's permission needs to be presented to the office, and the figure should be referenced in its legend.

Use of Italics

Gene symbols, Latin terms (i.e. in vivo, in vitro, ex vivo, in utero, in situ, and etc.) and species scientific names (using the binomial nomenclature), should be typed in italics, while the first letter of the genus name must be capitalized (i.e. Homo sapiens).
